Index to THE CLASSICAL WEEKLY, Volume XXV

October 5, 1931 — May 23, 1932

This Index, prepared by Charles Knapp, has been worked out along the lines followed in the General Index to Volumes I–XVI, and in the separate Indexes to Volumes XVII–XXIV.

The name of an author and the title of an article are given in full only once, at the place where the author's surname appears in the alphabetical sequence. The title of a book reviewed will be found in full only where the name of the author appears in the list given under the caption "Reviews". To the titles of articles or subjects (e. g. Ancient Memory Systems) the names of the authors are not attached; one can readily find the names by looking up the page or the pages specified.

In determining the place of certain items in the general alphabetical sequence, or the place of items within a group or a paragraph, certain initial words, "An" and "The", "Der" and "Die", are disregarded.

"Aeneid: Vergil" = 'For the Aeneid see under Vergil'; "Amor: Cupid" = 'For Amor see Cupid'; "Ancient Corinth: Reviews, O'Neill" = 'see Reviews, under the name O'Neill'; "see above", "see below" = 'see above', 'see below' under the same caption (i. e. in the same paragraph or group of entries).

THE CLIMAX SERIES

R. V. D. Magoffin, Editor

LATIN—FIRST YEAR
Magoffin and Henry

LATIN—SECOND YEAR
Berry and Lee

LATIN—FOURTH YEAR
Burton and Gummere

Don't make the mistake of waiting another year before introducing the Climax Series to your students. Teachers who have put these books into their classrooms have nothing but praise to offer for the genuine interest aroused for the study of Latin and the increased ability of their students to understand and master the subject. (LATIN—THIRD YEAR, Lord and Woodruff, in preparation.)

CLASSICAL MYTHS THAT LIVE TODAY (Sabin)

"....presents hundreds of fascinating old stories of Greek and Roman mythology, linking them with our literature, our art, and our common speech. A wealth of pictures, mostly new, aid in this service. Questions, exercises, and reading lists abound".—School and Society, issue of April 2, 1932.

KNAPP'S VERGIL

"For twenty-seven years the best American edition of the Aeneid".

—Chicago Schools Journal (1930)

The Revised Edition (1928) provides—

An Introduction covering the life, the works, the language, and the meter of Vergil, and a history of the times. A full Bibliography, both for Vergil and for Ovid, is included.

Notes that are not too technical—placed on the same page as the text.

A colored map of the route followed by Aeneas.

Illustrations, consisting of photographic reproductions of statues, reliefs, etc., that have come down from classical times.

Free paper-bound copies of the text alone for classroom use. Many sight-reading passages included.

Two Editions available—

1)—Books I–VI, with Selections from Books VII–XII. 868 pages, $1.96

2)—Books I–VI, and Selections from Ovid's Metamorphoses. 868 pages, $1.96

THE MINIATURES

of the

MANUSCRIPTS OF TERENCE

PRIOR TO THE THIRTEENTH CENTURY

By L. W. Jones and C. R. Morey

This volume is the commentary on the complete corpus of the Terence miniatures, comprising almost eight hundred reproductions, which appeared last year. The text volume affords a complete description of each manuscript and an analysis of its illustrations, and provides also such determination as is possible of the date and provenance of each codex, and the particular variety of medieval style which is represented by its illustrations. The concluding chapter summarizes the findings of the authors and includes a presentation of the descent of the illustrative tradition in Terence manuscripts, as well as a discussion of the relative value of the manuscripts as representatives of the archetype, which was written and illustrated in the fifth century A.D.

The two volumes together are priced at thirty dollars. They are sold separately at the price of twelve dollars for the Text volume and twenty dollars for the volume of Plates.
